We know very well that the key to success is the unification of the actors towards this fight. Only by being together, sharing information, increasing technological and human capacities, making everyone aware of the challenges that await us and raising daily standards, will we be successful against cyber enemies."

Deputy Prime Minister Mrs. Belinda Balluku said: "Cyber security is an essential element for the good functioning of the Government and all information infrastructures. Thanks to the timely response and the support of our strategic partners and collaborators, this attack did not achieve its main goal, which was to bring the state to its knees and destroy these infrastructures."
